This virtual event is an opportunity to experience an unprecedented exhibit which reveals little-known historic and cultural realities of the “people of the first light,” the Wampanoag, who have lived here for over 12,000 years. They are the tribe encountered 400 years ago by the Mayflower colonists.

Save the Date: January 19th @ 3pm for Steven Peters' talk about The National Day of Mourning.

The Our Story exhibit traveled throughout New England until the pandemic occurred and was originally scheduled as a live exhibit at Eastham Library in December- part of the Eastham 400 Commemoration.
